Veterans of two flerce wars met as somrades and during their reminisoldiers was one of the most pathetic ights imaginable; many look upon his as their last reunion, and with tear finned eye and broken voice, com on. Gen. Odon Guitar, of Columbia responded in behalf of the veterans and his response will be long bered by all who heard it.

Musical numbers were also a par of the afternon programme. Mrs A. A. Eyers, of St. Joseph, and Miss Kit-tle Major, of Kansus City, sang several duets in a most pleasing manner which were not with generous ap-please from the audience, and Judge S. E. Kendall and Jesse Barnett per formed on the violin. A drive aro sion, in which the veterans of both wars again participated, Hon C. A. Barnes made a short but pretty and appropriate address, Gen.
